GRNL

Gay Rights National Lobby (GRNL) recently announced that it hired Kathy Patrick to serve as the Director of its new Midwest Regional Office. The office, scheduled to open its doors this summer, will be located in Chicago.

A lifelong resident of the Midwest, Patrick has been living in Milwaukee for the last five years. She has worked as an organizer and political activist for the last six years, primarily with the National Organization for Women (NOW).

Patrick has been a member of Wisconsin's Human Rights Task Force since 1980. She helped coordinate NOW's participation in the successful fight for a gay and lesbian civil rights ordinance in Milwaukee, and later, for AB-70, Wisconsin's gay and lesbian civil rights bill. She is also a member of the Wisconsin Lesbian and Gay Network and was active in the effort to establish the Wisconsin Governor's Council on Lesbian and Gay Issues.

GRNL is seeking financial assistance to help cover the expenses of opening and maintaining its Midwest Regional Office. Contributions will help end the "coastalism" of our movement and enable GRNL to work more closely with gay and lesbian communities throughout the Midwest. Make checks payable to "GRNL Midwest Office" and send to GRNL, PO Box 1892, Washington, DC 20013.

AIDS

An American researcher speculated recently that Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS) may have been caused by a strain of African swine fever which infects pigs in Haiti.

The researcher theorized that AIDS may have originated with a Haitian gay who consumed infected pork and then spread the disease to visiting US gays who were on vacation in Haiti. There is no evidence to support the theory. However, there has been much speculation along the same line because AIDS-type diseases have long been known to occur in Africa where African swine fever originated.

Increased AIDS funding was supported in testimony before the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Labor, Health and Human Services and Education recently by Virginia Apuzzo, Executive Director of the National Gay Task Force (NGTF), Dr. David Ostrow of Chicago's Howard Brown Memorial Clinic, and Dr. Roger Enlow, Director of New York City's Office of Gay and Lesbian Health Concerns. The hearing was on fiscal year 1984 funding for the National Institutes of Health (NIH) and the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) and was one of the many AIDS-related measures being lobbied by the AIDS Project of the Gay Rights National Lobby.

Gay Legal Actions

A Los Angeles federal court ruled that the US Air Force cannot discharge a man on the basis of being a homosexual because of letters to his wife in which he discussed earlier same-gender sexual encounters.

The Air Force attempted to dismiss Sergeant Alfred J. Daniels III, 32, assigned to the band at March Air Force Base near Riverside. Daniels' wife turned the incriminating letters over to the Air Force after a disagreement last year.

The Air Force subsequently began dismissal proceedings against Daniels, who entered the service in 1971. Daniels told investigators that he had sex with men in 1976 and 1979.

The court decided that the letters to his wife were privileged and could not be used against him. Further, the court decided that the Air Force did not advise Daniels properly of his rights.

Despite objections by the child's natural mother, an Alameda County Superior Court recently granted a lesbian "father" temporary child-visitation rights.

A lesbian union was formed at Metropolitan Community Church in Dublin in 1977 between Linda Jean Loftin, 34, and Mary Elizabeth Flournoy, 31. In 1978, Flournoy gave birth a child.

Loftin helped her lover conceive the child through artificial insemination. Loftin's brother donated the sperm used in the insemination. The court decided that Loftin is entitled to visit the 4-year-old child born to Flournoy.

In her suit, Loftin contends that she has provided financial support for the child; however, she was forbidden by Flournoy to see the child. Loftin had the union dissolved one year after it was formed.

The court has not ruled on another request by Loftin--that she be legally named as a parent of the child.

Oral argument has been heard in a Sacramento Superior Court case which could result in the declaration that the State of California's current policy of granting dental-health benefits to spouses of state employees but denying them to homosexual family partners violates the equal protection clause of the California Constitution.

A Lesbian Rights Project attorney told the court at the hearing that the state's current policy violates a Governor's Executive Order b-54-79. That Executive Order, issued by former Governor Edmund G. Brown, Jr. and still in effect, bans sexual orientation discrimination in state government.

The Project represents Boyce Hinman, an employee of the California Employment Development Department, and Advocates for Gay and Lesbian State Employees (AGLSE), a Sacramento-based employee group. Hinman and AGLSE are petitioners in the case.

The suit asks the court to reimburse petitioner Hinman for expenses he has incurred in providing his partner of twelve years with dental care since the state rejected his December 1981 application for benefits. It also asks that the court order the state to include coverage for homosexual family partners of state employees when contracts are next negotiated with dental-health providers.

Legal expenses of the suit are expected to total between $2000 and $3000, Hinman said. Donations are encouraged, and may be sent to the Lesbian Rights Project, 1370 Mission Street, San Francisco, CA 94103.

Anyone wishing additional information may contact AGLSE at PO Box 161756, Sacramento, CA 95816, or by calling (916) 965-6851.

The controversial issue of membership of the predominantly gay Metropolitan Community Church (MCC) in the National Council of Churches is being considered at the current time.

The handsome family trio on our Father's Day front page consists of, from top to bottom: Mr. Billy Boyd, Mr. Michael Fleace, and Mr. Majestic Boyd.

Billy, a Sacramento-based actor, and Michael, a waiter at Pava's Restaurant, have been together for two and a half years. Majestic is Billy's three-year-old son. Because of a joint physical custody arrangement, Majestic spends forty percent of his time with his father and Michael.

Billy and Michael consider their relationship to be a stable one, and they are in the process of buying a home together. Majestic will spend Father's Day with his two dads.

HOROSCOPE

By Dr. Pat Larr

GEMINI (May 21-Jun 20)--Your life is a three-ring circus right now--lots of clowning around at work, you're the ringmaster of your social circle, your finances perform death-defying feats. So what if your love life seems caught on the trapeze? You love to swing both ways.

CANCER (Jun 21-Jul 22)--It's time to take off those rose-colored glasses you've been hiding behind. That special someone just may be a thorn in your side. Handle him/her with care or you just might get pricked.

LEO (Jul 23-Aug 22)--Love is highlighted in the coming month. You can do no wrong so far as that special someone is concerned. Go with it! A word of warning, though; if you begin to feel fenced in, give him/her the gate.

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sep 22)--All those sacrifices you made during the winter finally pay off. Don't be afraid to flaunt that newly erected body. You've always enjoyed watching little things grow, now you'll see some action!

LIBRA (Sep 23-Oct 22)--You're ramblin' now and travel is highlighted. You're on the road again, moving from town to town or from lover to lover. They don't call it wanderlust for nothing.

SCORPIO (Oct 23-Nov 22)--Try to overcome your jealous streak. Things are not what they seem for you right now. Don't put any faith in any of the rumors you hear concerning that special someone. S/he's still an angel, her/his halo just needs polishing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21)--Try to tone down your natural sex appeal, Sag. The love bug is about to bite. A rash moment during the full moon may lead to a painful rash.

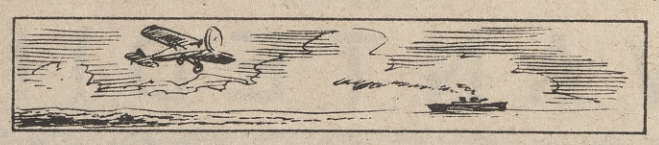
CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 19)--How does your garden of love grow? Are your friends asking, "Where did you dig that one up?" Or "How did you get one with such big blossoms?" Maybe some pruning and/or weeding is in order.

AQUARIUS (Jan 20-Feb 19)--Water sports, always so important to you during the summer months, are spotlighted. You make a big splash poolside, giving new meaning to the word "beachball."

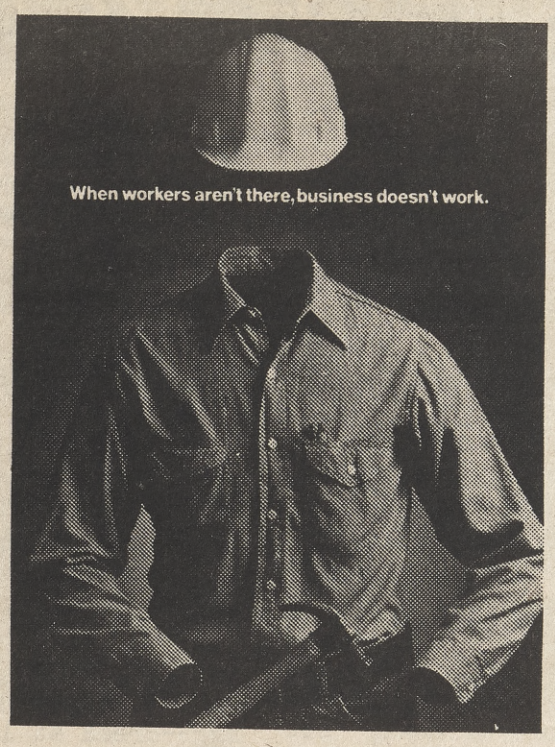
PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20)--Bothered by barflies? Pestered by pansies? Why are all the wrong types attracted to you? Time to change course. Maybe if you stopped ordering Shirley Temples and switched to Jack Daniels you'd find the right highball.

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 19)--Never one to call attention to yourself, suddenly your good points are recognized by everyone. Take advantage of this opportunity to get ahead in the boardroom and the bedroom.

TAURUS (Apr 20-May 20)--You get a chance to show your flip side when something or someone from the past returns to give you one last chance to set the record straight. The bull just may go charging off in an exciting new direction.



The first transatlantic airmail service began in 1939. The plane flew from New York City to Marseilles, France, via Bermuda and Portugal.



Cancer strikes 120,000 people in our work force every year. Although no dollar value can ever be placed on a human life, the fact remains that our economy loses more than $10 billion in earnings every year that cancer victims would have generated. Earnings they might still be generating if they had known the simple facts on how to protect themselves from cancer.

Now you can do something to protect your employees, your company, and yourself... call your local unit of the American Cancer Society and ask for their free pamphlet, "Helping Your Employees to Protect Themselves Against Cancer." Start your company on a policy of good health today!

WEST COAST PRODUCTION COMPANY

CABBAGE PATCH

By Miss Hedda Khabajh, M.A.

I have always felt that anyone who cooks on a regular basis ought to have a favorite recipe for certain standard dishes like stew, salad dressing, or potato salad. These are staples that one makes several times a year, if not several times a month. Another basic recipe that one ought to have is for meat loaf. I must confess that, while I have made dozens of meat loaves, I have never had a standard or basic recipe. I have, obviously, always started with some sort of meat, but from there on I have generally used whatever was available. Only recently I decided I ought to organize the basic plan of attack. So here goes:

Meat Loaf

Ground meat--anywhere from 1 to 2 lb of beef; up to approximately one-third of the meat can be pork or sausage or something similar that will add flavor or texture.

Tomato Sauce--This can be tomato sauce or catsup or chili sauce or tomato juice or vegetable juice (depending on the consistency of the dry ingredients); one-half cup is enough.

Pepper--Use black or white or crushed red--to taste.

Dry Filler--Use bread crumbs, rice, oatmeal, or crushed crackers. Note that dry rice or oatmeal (i.e., uncooked) will probably double in quantity during cooking.

Seasoning--Garlic is great. Add a minced clove. Or better still, add a package of dry onion soup mix. Try a tablespoon of lemon juice. Herbs like oregano, basil, dill, cilantro, or sage can add an exotic touch, but stick to using only one at a time.

Mix all of the ingredients together. If the mixture seems too dry or thick, add more juice or some stock or even water. But remember that most ground meat will have a great deal of water or fat that will be released during cooking. Pour mixture (it really won't pour because it ought to be too thick) into a meat-loaf pan or any ovenware casserole. (Pottery will take sightly longer than metal.) Bake in a moderate oven, 325° to 350°, for about an hour, give or take 15 min. If a great deal of fat is rendered during cooking, you might want to pour this off before serving. Serve with french fries, a salad, and wine. This will also make delicious sandwiches the next day, either cold or warmed.

WANDA THE GARDENER

By Wanda Martin

The best potting tubs in the world are half wine barrels. They are reasonably priced, available, and attractive and almost anything can be grown in them, from vegetables to dwarf trees of any kind.

Most oak barrels are charred on the inside. This does not harm the plants. In fact, it may provide them with a small amount of nutrients.

When you purchase your tub and do not plan to use it right away, fill it with water. This prevents the tub from drying out and falling apart.

First, drill several 1/2-inch to 3/4-inch holes in the bottom of the tub for drainage. This is extremely important because if you don't, the tub will fill up with water and drown anything you have planted in it. Second, find a suitable location because once the tub is filled it will be extremely heavy and moving it will be a real chore. If it is placed on a deck area, be sure that its weight can be supported.

Fill the tub with a good planting mix. I prefer regular commercial potting soil (not redwood mulch or fir bark mix). Regular dirt can be used, but mix generous portions of potting soil in with your dirt; this will help the roots and water penetrate the soil.

I find that one large bag of potting mix will fill a tub. Fill the tub about 1/4 full of soil. Then add three or so large plant tabs (this will give the plant additional nutrients and will eliminate the need of constant fertilizer applications). Add more soil; then center your plant on top of the mix and fill in the rest of the potting mix around the root ball. Water well; this will settle the dirt. If needed, add more soil. I would advise you to buy a one- or two-gallon potted plant; this way it will stay longer in the tub, grow into it shall we say.

FAUX PAS

By Mr. Ed E. Kett

Dear Mr. Kett,

Sylvia Beulah and I are planning a rather large dinner party (twenty people) in the near future. A good friend of ours (I'll call her Leontyne Myrtle) will be coming with her new lover. For business reasons, Sylvia Beulah would also like to invite Leontyne Myrtle's previous lover Minnie Erlinda. Leontyne Myrtle's and Minnie Erlinda's break-up was rather messy--blows were actually exchanged. And since the break-up was so recent, I don't feel it would be wise to have them both under the same roof right now. Minnie Erlinda is known for her violent temper and I'd hate to see her destroy my lovely home. I don't feel that our business would suffer too much if she isn't invited to our nice party. Sylvia Beulah feels I'm overreacting. Still, we trust your judgement, and will abide by your decision. Should we invite Minnie Erlinda?

Yours ever,
Amandamae

Dear Amandamae,

Invite Minnie Erlinda by all means. Most civilized people can be trusted to bury the hatchet when they are in a social setting, even if they long to bury it in someone's back. If you're lucky, Leontyne Myrtle and Minnie Erlinda may not even speak to each other. (Of course, if I were you, I wouldn't put their placecards at adjoining chairs at the dinner table.) If, on the other hand, Minnie Erlinda does decide at some point to stage a cat fight, at least you'll know that she is not going to be an asset to your business. She's just going to be either an ass or a pain in the ass. Maybe both.

Yours truly,

Edwards Endicott Kett

Dear Mr. Kett,

I'll admit it, I'm a size queen. The bigger the cock the better. But my search for a cock that will truly satisfy me has been somewhat rocky. Occasionally I'll see some gentleman in a bar with a trouser snake reaching almost down to his knees. But when I finally get the handsome devil stripped to the bare essentials, I find myself a victim of false advertising on his part. On various occasions, I have discovered guys wearing cockrings or using props (like lemons, avocados, once even a Polish sausage) stuffed into their pants. I spend a lot of time maneuvering these guys into the bedroom only to be disappointed by their tiny meats So, to save us both some time, how do I ask a guy if the bulge in his pants is reality or merely an optical illusion?

Sincerely yours,
Alred

Dear Alred,

A gentleman does not inquire of another gentleman if his basket has been artificially enlarged. If you do so, you're apt to get creamed (by his fists, not his cock).

Sincerely yours,

Edwards Endicott Kett

Man-Two-Man

The man's way to meet men continues to provide a positive environment in which to meet and socialize. In recent weeks participation in the group has increased dramatically. Commentators have said that gay men are finding new appeal in traditional courtship because of the upswing in diseases that are associated with a promiscuous lifestyle.

Men who want to develop same-gender friendships may find that Man Two Man is the answer. The group, which is operated by Patlar Enterprises, offers a full schedule of discussions, potluck dinners, movies at home, various presentations, and other events designed to give men the opportunity to develop friendships while sharing interesting life experiences.

A main feature of Man Two Man is its Wednesday evening social program. The event starts at 7:30 pm and lasts for about 2-2½ hours. There is a short introductory period intended to make new participants feel comfortable. Recently Silver Lion Presents arranged a wine tasting contest an Dr. Art Katz, a Sacramento dentist, gave a slide presentation which featured scuba diving.

New men are especially encouraged to attend. A $2 donation is requested to defray operating expenses. The upcoming program is shown below. For additional information call (916) 391-9755.

Sandy McDowell, nurse, single, lesbian, decided to have a baby. Now not an uncommon decision; but in 1978, before her time. Working as a nurse, she spent many an hour reading up on the artificial insemination procedure. She had access to the gynecologists and obstetricians who would do the procedure. Naively, she asked expecting it to be done. It wasn't that simple.

Sandy contacted five clinics. One clinic flat out said no, they won't do single women. Another clinic had guidelines that a married woman might have failed. Another requested psychological testing. But finally through her persistance she has mothered a son.

The procedure begins with a four-month temperature chart. A woman's full cycle runs from the first day of her menstrual cycle to the start of her next month's cycle. Temperatures are taken the first day after the flow ceases and taken up to the start of the next flow. Sandy experiences a 26-day cycle with a definite 1.5 degree rise in temperature around her 11th or 12th day. This is her ovulation period and the time for insemination.

At that time the Doctor would inject the donor's semen in he vagina up to the mouth of the cervix. Fertilization does not always occur; and in Sandy's case, it took four attempts before an egg was fertilized.

How has motherhood affected Sandy; finances changed twofold. "I never took into consideration the expense of child care." In the gay and lesbian community, children haven't been accepted. Sandy's first relationship after Benjamin ended, hampered with her lover's jealousy over Sandy's care and concern for her son. Her mobility has decreased and her circle of friends has change. "My friends have to understand that I can't just pick up and go. I have to think about feeding, babysitting, and taking care of my child first."

For Sandy, motherhood is beautiful and she has begun the procedure again for a September baby. She has chosen to use the same donor because she wants Benjamin to have a full brother or sister. "I need to have someone besides myself he can claim as his own."

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

AIDS, Incorporated (American International Data Search) is a newly formed Sacramento business which performs research for attorneys, business people, physicians, and health-care professionals using over 400 computerized databases. By the end of the year, we will have offices in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

We have been receiving phone calls intended for the AIDS/KS Hotline recently started by the Sacramento chapter of Kaposi's Sarcoma Foundation. The source of the confusion is obvious: AIDS the business shares initials with AIDS the epidemic. Additionally, we're the only AIDS listed in the phone book. Because of these two factors and because the entire community is threatened by this frightening health problem, AIDS, Inc., is referring all calls meant for the AIDS/KS Hotline to the right number.

AIDS, Inc., recognizes that Kaposi's Sarcoma is a grave danger to all. We hope that this letter clarifies who we are and reduces any confusion for potential callers to the AIDS/KS Hotline.

Best Regards,

Susan Steinsapir

POET'S CORNER

This Hectic World

By Matthew Martin

In this hectic world in which we live,
My understanding I try so hard to give.
Why should I be expected to live in shame
And cater to peoples' cruel, vicious game?
I am a warm, breathing, living man.
So why should I go around hiding what I am?
In this hectic world in which we live
My love and friendship is all I wish to give.

CROSSROADS

BRIDGING COMMUNITIES THROUGHOUT AMERICA

Seattle

Seattle's gay community and the Seattle Police Department are now talking. A training program has long been sought by the gay community as one of several needed steps to enhance understanding and cooperation between police and gay people. The initial meeting was recently convened by Assistant Chief of Police Noreen Skagen.

The training is one of two requirements for support that The Dorian Group presented to the City Council in testimony regarding the Police Precinct site location at 12th and Pine, the second issue being a mayoral level Police/Gay Task Force.

Skagen indicated that she had requested assistance from San Francisco Commissioner Jo Daly who met with her and Chief of Police Patrick Fitzsimons. Commissioner Daly will send training material prepared for the gay community awareness training program in San Francisco. Community participants suggested that similar material be requested from New York City, Los Angeles, and Denver.

Mississippi

The Mississippi Gay Alliance (MGA) is marshalling gay energy to meet the challenges which are being posed by Moral Majority operations in that state.

A leader for the MGA stated clearly that the Mississippi gay community has no intention of bending to the bluster of the "so-called Moral Majority."

A spokesman for the Mississippi Moral Majority had earlier requested Jackson officials to control activity of the "homosexual element" on Capitol Street in Smith Park at night.

In actions designed to educate the general public, the MGA launched a program to get the message out that gay persons are everywhere and pose no threat to mainstream society.

The MGA is planning a march in Jackson in June on the last Saturday to celebrate Gay Pride Week.

Palo Alto

A scholarship for a medical student who has shown a commitment for service to the gay community has been established at Stanford University.

A $2040 scholarship was established by the Stanford Gay and Lesbian Alliance. There were 35 contributors to the scholarship. Fundraising efforts were aided by members of the Stanford Gay and Lesbian Alumni Club in San Francisco.

Minnesota

Minnesota is getting ready for the first International Lesbian/Gay Winter Games. That means there is a lot of work to do in planning and organizing. That also means that a lot of money is needed--a projected $1.5 million to stage and promote the 1986 Winter Games. It's easy to think of fundraising as bringing in the bucks. But money isn't the only purpose of fundraising. In fact, the fundraising committee for the Winter Games has three goals!

- -Raising the $1.5 million needed to stage the games.
- -Promoting the event. Each letter, personal appeal, and public event advertises the Olympics and promotes its benefits to the community.
- -INVOLVEMENT. It is community involvement in the Games that will ensure success. Because fundraising involves so many activities, it offers a way for everyone to get involved.

So persons are needed to get involved. Persons can commit as much or as little time as available. People are needed to sell t-shirts, write letters, contact businesses, sell tickets, type, address envelopes, and do a variety of other tasks. Coordinators for each of the task groups within the fundraising committee are also needed: Souvenirs, Business Solicitations, and Events Production. The coordinators will help develop strategies and budgets for these groups, as well as coordinating their ongoing activities.

One final word--the Winter Games needs money! Each dollar is critical, especially in these early planning stages. A contribution of $2 pays for a day's rent on our state offices. Five dollars buys a book of stamps. $50 pays the phone bill for a month. Persons are encouraged to do what they can to make the Winter Games happen. Call 699-2807 and leave a message.

Los Angeles

The Los Angeles Gay Community banded together to form Christopher Street West (CSW) of Los Angeles to commemorate events that took place in New York City in June of 1969. This non-profit organization has a two-fold purpose: to celebrate the pride and dignity of being gay with twenty-two million gay brothers and sisters nationwide; and to educate the general public at large to the fact that we gays, as well as all other minorities, are an important part of the complicated and intricate tapestry that is the American lifestyle.

CSW began by simply marching down Hollywood Boulevard to show straights that gay neighbors were indeed among them. Now, fourteen years later, CSW is producing a major event, possibly the third largest parade in Southern California. The annual Gay Pride Festival (this year on June 25 and 26) generates money to assist dozens of non-profit groups and organizations with thousands of dollars in grants, donations, and gifts that would otherwise leave many of these worthy causes floundering. The valuable cooperation of city officials with CSW has made the festival a viable and successful event.

Scheduled as sporting events for THE FESTIVAL GAMES--1983 are Billiards, Bowling, Run for Gay Pride, Swimming, and Tennis. The events are being kept to a minimum to insure the smoothest of operations.

Awards will be given to all placing 1st, 2nd, or 3rd in their individual sporting event. The awards will be in the form of a medal, which has been designed by Mr. Dennis Stevens of Los Angeles. These medals with THE FESTIVAL GAMES--1983 logo and 1983 CSW slogan "FEEL THE PRIDE...SHARE THE MAGIC" will be only a token of the games as an event.

The experience of participation will be the most rewarding aspect of the games. As was seen by Gay Games I, the fellowship and camaraderie will undoubtedly mean more than their winning awards. All participants will be given a Certificate of Appreciation for their support of THE FESTIVAL GAMES--1983.

Those who are interested in participating in THE FESTIVAL GAMES--1983, should send a self-addressed, stamped legal-size envelope to Christopher Street West, THE FESTIVAL GAMES, 7985 Santa Monica Boulevard, West Hollywood, CA 90046.

Illinois

Three bills protecting the rights of lesbians and gay men have been introduced into the House of Representatives in Illinois. One bill would prohibit discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation (HB 661), and the other would make it easier for local governments to enact similar legislation (HB 660).

Additionally, a bill (HB 724) has been introduced to amend the Ethnic Intimidation Act in Illinois, which makes violence against persons or property because of race, color, creed, religion, or national origin a criminal act. The change would add sexual orientation to the list of protected classifications.

House Bill 660 was introduced in answer to a judicial decision which held the gay-rights ordinance in Urbana to be invalid because a municipality did not have the authority as granted by the state to enact such legislation. Therefore, it amends the Illinois Municipal Code "to authorize municipalities to prohibit discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation in local fair-housing ordinances."

Las Cruces

A gay and lesbian organization has been formed in Las Cruces, New Mexico. The group, Lambda Las Cruces, has approximately 40 members.

Lambda Las Cruces is organized for the purposes of providing social and support-group activities.

Lambda Las Cruces has a telephone information line for events of interest to gays and lesbians in the Las Cruces area. Recorded information regarding events can be received by calling (505) 526-5275.

A weekly brunch is held every Sunday at 10:30 am at the Village Inn in Las Cruces. Upcoming plans include a Coffee House.

PRIDE WEEK '83

Plans for Gay and Lesbian Pride Week '83 have been announced by an ad-hoc coalition of Albuquerque gay and lesbian organizations.

This year, the week-long celebration of gay and lesbian pride is being called "Albuquerque GaLesbian Pride Week '83." The ad-hoc coalition has coined the expression "GaLesbian" to refer to both gay men and lesbians.

Tentative plans for the week, which will be June 17-26, include: a march and rally, a gay civil-rights forum, a variety show, and a nationally known gay-rights speaker.

Dave Kopay, a former professional football player who received national attention when he publicly declared that he was gay, will be in Albuquerque on June 17-20. Kopay will be the guest of honor at a reception sponsored by Common Bond on the 17th and will participate in the march and rally on the 18th.

The march has been scheduled for the beginning of the week in order to publicize the entire week's events.

Also scheduled for the 18th is a picnic sponsored by the Metropolitan Community Church of Albuquerque and a Women's Dance sponsor by Wimin In Movement in New Mexico (WIMIN).

Hijos del Sol will hold a roller disco, and Common Bond will sponsor the third annual Classical Music Concert. Both will be held on June 19.

The Rusti Cork Club will hold a pot-luck dinner on June 21, and Cricket's Country Club will hold its buffet on June 23.

An information fair will be hosted by the Gay and Lesbian Student Union, which will be followed by a gay civil rights forum sponsored by the Lesbian Political Caucus. The information fair and civil rights forum will be held June 22.

The men will take on the women in a softball game sponsored by WIMIN on June 25, and that evening Common Bond will present "Caught in the Act '83," its second annual variety show featuring local lesbian and gay talent. This year's variety show will be held in the KiMo theater.

The MCC Albuquerque will observe lesbian and gay pride week in special religious services on June 26, and a special open house will be held by the Parents and Friends of Lesbians and Gays organization that evening.

New York City

Tower Press of New York City will publish 30,000 copies of the 1983 LESBIAN AND GAY PRIDE GUIDE RESOURCE DIRECTORY on June 10, 1983. This free resource directory has been published by Tower Press since 1981 and is issued in conjunction with the annual Lesbian and Gay Celebration held in New York City during the last week of June that commemorates the Stonewall uprising. Included in this year's PRIDE GUIDE will be advertising, lesbian and gay resources, an expanded calendar of events (covering all lesbian and gay activities in the New York metropolitan area June 17-26, 1983), and significant editorial content on the subject of "Information Delivery in the 1980's." A variety of articles will be written addressing the theme as it relates to such topics as health care, legal services, employment, entertainment, relationships, switchboard referrals, and political action.

Twenty thousand copies of the PRIDE GUIDE were published in 1982 and proved quite popular with out-of-town visitors to New York. So much so that the entire supply of resource directories was quickly gone following publication. Individuals outside of New York City who may wish to have a copy of the 1983 PRIDE GUIDE in advance of the June 10 distribution date may order pre-publication copies directly from Tower Press. Individual copies may be requested for $2.50 (to cover postage and handling). The check or money order should be made payable to Tower Press and orders should be directed to PRIDE GUIDE '83, Tower Press, 20 West 22nd Street, New York, NY 10010.

Cincinnati

The Greater Cincinnati Gay Coalition (GCGC) will once again be presenting "Gay & Lesbian Day" at Kings Island, as part of its Pride Week Celebration.

The event is set for Saturday, June 11. Discount tickets will be available that morning from 10 to 11 am (near the main entrance, look for the GCGC sign). Discount tickets will sell for $11--no reservations are needed.

Gays and lesbians are requested to wear red and to plan for a fun and exciting day.

San Francisco

The Third Annual Castro Street Dog Show and Parade will be held in San Francisco on Sunday, June 12, 1983. Castro Street between 18th and 19th will be closed for the event, which last year attracted 7000 people and raised with the help of the Sisters of Perpetual Indulgence and the Tavern Guild, over $2500 for the then fledgling Kaposi's Sarcoma Foundation.

Fifty dogs will be judged in categories including: Best Old Dog, Best Smile, Best Legs, Best Buns, Best Match to Owner, Best Drag, Best Trick, Best Groomed, and Best of Show. There will be live entertainment and celebrity guest MCs. Last year Shirley MacLaine surprised everyone with her appearance as the guest MC.

This year's beneficiaries include the San Francisco SPCA, Community United Against Violence, and the National Association of Lesbian and Gay Gerontology. Projected attendance is 12,-15,000 and with a goal to raise $25,000.

There will be a limited number of concessions on the street. For information, call Jay or Joe at (415) 861-2215. Entry forms for dogs are available at Headlines, 549 Castro or 1217 Polk, on a first-come, first-served basis (limited to 50 dogs), for $15 general, $10 seniors and handicapped. Businesses and organizations may sponsor a dog for a donation of $50 or more.

A survey of crime victims released in San Francisco on May 9 established that gay victims are reluctant to report crimes to the police. Statistics revealed that 82 percent of anti-gay attacks are not reported to police.

The latest conclusion is different from one released last year. Based on the earlier report, Mayor Diane Feinstein had labeled a "myth" the belief that gays are more likely to be victims of violent attacks. The statement was withdrawn after it was criticized by many gays, and Feinstein agreed to have its conclusions independently reviewed by a panel composed of a cross section of gays.

San Diego

The San Diego Chapter of the Gay Academic Union (GAU), which will be hosting that organization's Ninth National Conference (GAU9) scheduled for next November 25-27, has issued a call for papers to be presented in lectures, panel discussions, seminars, and workshops. The Gay Academic Union, which was founded in 1973, is a national organization of gay academics, college-level students, professional people, and others interested in the development of gay scholarship, gay art, and gay educational outreach.

The subject areas for which formal presentations are being invited include: Arts (visual, film, theater, dance); Behavioral Science (anthropology, sociology, psychology); Business and Economics; Communication and Mass Media; Education, Student Activities, and Campus Life; History; Law, Civil Rights, and Political Science; Library Science and Archives; Literature; Mental Health and Personal Growth; Physical Health and Wellness; Religion, Spirituality, and Philosophy; and Women's Issues. Each session during the conference will last 90 minutes and may include more than one presenter.

Proposals for presentations should be sent to GAU in the form of abstracts of 300 to 500 words. Proposals submitted by July will be assured of consideration in the scheduling of the conference. Proposals submitted after July 1 will be considered if space on the program is available. Persons submitting proposals will be contacted in August as to the acceptance of their proposals.

Potential presenters should also submit biographical data sheets with their abstracts including name, address and phone number where he or she can be reached during July and August; academic affiliation, if any; title of the proposed presentation; educational background or practical experience; areas of research or skills; previous publications, presentations, or performances related to the program proposal; and an indication of special needs such as audio-visual equipment, special room size, etc.

Proposals and biographical information should be mailed to GAU9 Program Committee, PO Box 82123, San Diego, CA 92138.

The stated purposes of GAU are to oppose discrimination against gays and women in academia and to work toward greater job security and advancement in academia and the professions; to promote new approaches to understanding the gay experience through research, publications, conferences, and gay art; to encourage the teaching of gay studies in schools and colleges; to support individual academics and professionals in the process of "coming out;" and to provide opportunities for members to gather together to share ideas and experiences.

The GAU awards annual $1000 scholarships to graduate and undergraduate gay and lesbian students judged to have the potential for making significant contributions in research, teaching, community service, or in scientific or artistic endeavor.

HAVE YOU EVER HAD HEPATITIS ???

Now, you can make it pay, as much as $500 extra each month. And, at the same time, you'll be helping to contribute to the health and welfare of other gay men and women.

HOW?

Your blood plasma contains various amounts of antibodies or antigens which are used in research and the production of a new Vaccine against hepatitis. DEXTER

Dexter, their art director, designed the layout. Dexter, who specializes in designing living spaces, has designed a room for your every mood. The club under Dexters's artistic direction will feature art showings of local artists, with an occasional guest artist. Receptions and cocktail parties will be a part of the show.

Thanks to everyone for making my "Tenth Annual Mother Jeffrey Mother of the Year Awards" a success. You probably known by now that the Mother-of-the-Year Award went to Dr. Elizabeth Harrison. She is one of the founders of the AIDS/KS Foundation. She also did an in-depth study of gay bashings in the downtown Sacramento area. She just returned from New York City where she presented a paper on gay couplings. Congratulations to Jim Adams for having the lucky ticket that won him the 1972 Cadillac Coupe de Ville. Congratulations to the Wreck Room for receiving the "Group Award" for their outstanding contributions to the community during the past year. And special congratulations go to Dr. Sandy Pomerantz for winning the "Special Award"...I hope by now you have had a chance to check out the new Kay St. Bar and Restaurant. If you haven't, don't wait any longer. You are in for a treat. Dancing, socializing, and good food. You will find it all there...Good luck Club 21 on your latest move. Sacramento is really coming full circle now. We have real choices where we can eat, drink, dance, and make Mary...Speaking of Sacramento, I felt so proud recently when twenty of us went down to San Francisco to participate in their (and our) "Fighting for Our Lives" candlelight march. It was the most heart-warming, awe-inspiring thing that I have ever taken part in. As a matter of fact, our Sacramento AIDS Awareness Week went quite well, too. The AIDS/KS Foundation asked me to pass on to you their thank yous & and their gratitude for your particpation in making our AIDS Awareness Week a success...The recent $1.98 Beauty Show at The Forum was a barrel of laughs. Maybe a little bit over priced. How about a $1.69 next time?...Hats off to the Valley Knights Motorcycle Club's Seventh Anniv. As usual, you provided us with another fun-filled day...Here is something you should become very interested in; it's the River City Democratic Club. If you're a Democrat, become a member. They are fighting for our rights. For information about the club, contact Jerry Sloan at (916) 381-3115...Bob (Bwy/Ltd) is still turning out those beautiful Sun. brunches & evening meals...Congrats to local playwright Pam Schaffer whose play, FRONTLINE, about the lesbian witch hunts in the military during the late forties, will be performed at the 24th St. Theatre June 3, 4, 9, 10, an 11. June 11 stating at 8 pm. $3 cover charge which will include Mulligan stew & bread. Prizes for the best (or worst) hobo costume...New bowling leagues are starting all over the place. Join one...FLASH! Bill C, saying that you are only going to the baths just for the whirlpool is one of the gayest lies ever told. Mike L, in a pitch dark orgy room, flicking one's Bic to see who is doing what to whom is downright crass & tacky. Here is a little housekeeping hint for Sonny: Every two months or so, throw away all those little slips of paper that have only phone numbers on them. That way you won't have to call up and ask, "Who are you & what am I doing with you number?" 3 am in the morning is a bit bold. Right Sonny? LaKish (Merc), what would Rita think if she saw you five sheets to the wind? You were sailing right along. Ron C, one thing about anonymous sex: You will never have a fight over furniture. Bobbette (Merc), one thing that you & Liz Taylor have in common is divorce courts. Oops, did I say that? Dwaine (Rose), how dare you laugh. You are right behind her. Bob H (Davis), yes, faking drowning is a perfectly acceptable way to gain the attention of a humpy lifeguard; but throwing a fit unless you are given mouth-to-mouth resuscitation is permitted only on certain very select beaches. Waikiki won't get it, honey. Sorry. Maurice (Merc), never tell a butch guy who has a pin through his nipples that it's cute. He may break your hair. Randy (Wreck Room), good to have you back behind the bar. Same goes for you, Dean (Kay-St.). Mike P (Forum), walking into a bar is divine, being rolled out is gross. Remember, rolling stoned gathers cigarette butts. Anna (Merc), you in the flower business again, huh?

A Transvestite

Interviewed by Larry Lanham

The interview had been in the planning stages for several months. I finally made the appointment and arrived at the San Francisco apartment of Tom, a transvestite, and his lover Chuck. They live in a modest apartment near the ocean. Upon entering the apartment, my friend Hal and I were greeted by Tom who was wearing a dusty rose ruffly chiffon dress, which added to his modest, shy, petite appearance. I could smell the aroma of cooking. Tom said he was preparing strawberry shortcake.

I suspect that Tom was as nervous as I was because it was his first time being interviewed and my first time interviewing. After chatting a few minutes, we both relaxed and proceeded with the interview.

Larry: How do you describe your orientation? What is the difference between transvestite and a transsexual?

Tom: I am a transvestite, someone who enjoys female clothing and being a female. Many transvestites (TVs) are heterosexual.

Larry: Do you consider it a lifestyle, or is it something more than that?

Tom: I consider it a lifestyle. My occupation is a nurse. On my job, I wear a smock and trousers and play the part of a man. I wear no makeup or jewelry on the job. However, almost everyone at work knows I'm a TV.

Larry: Do you Dress as a woman all the time? Why don't you go by a woman's name?

Tom: I only dress as a woman 90% of the time. I don't dress as one while at work. I don't go by a woman's name because of the problems that could case with I.D. and driver's license, etc. It's easier to go by "Tom."

Larry: What age are you now? How long have you and Chuck been lovers?

Tom: I'm 41 years old. Chuck and I have been lovers for 2 years, and we met the eve of the Royal Wedding.

Larry: Were you a TV when you met your lover? What is his acceptance? Where did you meet your lover?

Tom: Yes, I was a TV when I met Chuck. We met at the baths; he had no way of knowing until I told him. On our second date, when he came to my house, he was shocked when I answered the door dressed as a woman; even though I had told him, he was surprised to see me in a dress. He is trying very hard to accept my lifestyle.

Chuck: I keep trying to understand his lifestyle because it is something new for me. Tom is a woman in his thinking and actions. But still I go to bed with a male body. I'm learning to understand him and I love him very much. Tom enjoys having a "home" to come home to. He faces compounded loneliness due to his cross-dressing. He is not too friendly with straight women and feels they are out to get a man.

Tom: In looking for a lover, I felt if anyone could understand cross-dressing it would be a man who had been married, and Chuck had been married.

Larry: Do you expect to undergo gender change operations?

Tom: No, not complete surgery or hormonal treatment. It's easier to maintain job working as a man. I want to have a career and not be supported.

Larry: What has been the most difficult thing about being a TV?

Tom: Having people accept me for me. Most people think TVs are screaming queens. Before becoming a TV, I went to a psychologist. He said I should go to different places and meet people. In dressing openly as a woman, I make no overt gestures when in public. I wait for people to befriend me. I do not like to antagonize people.

Larry: What has been your most embarrassing time as a TV?

Tom: Chuck and I went to the baths once, and the employees could not see below the trench coat I was wearing, and when I took it off, they asked us to leave, not realizing while at the baths the attire would be a towel anyway.

Larry: Do you find it costs more to dress as a woman?

Tom: No, it costs less. You can buy nice clothes for far less than men's clothing. I am very concerned how I appear in public. I don't want other people to be uncomfortable in my presence.

Larry: Do you find that society reacts to you differently as a woman than as a man? Do you find that men tend to come on to you and open doors and so-forth when you are dressed as a woman?

Larry: What advice would you have for someone who would like to become a TV?

(2) Consider your job.
(3) Decide to what extent you want to do it, as a show, a joke, or seriously. I am dead serious about what I'm doing and my thinking is very feminine.

Larry: What support organizations exist for TVs?

Tom: Golden Gate Guys and Gals in San Francisco. They meet on Wednesday nights.

Larry: What about someone who would like to meet TVs? Where do they go to do that?

Tom: In San Francisco, there are some TV's who go to Other Ways, Social Alternatives, or Great Outdoors.

Larry: Do you find that other gay men are supportive?

Tom: Some gays are, but on a whole they are not. They are more supportive at the MCC Church, and there is usually no rejection.

Larry: At what age did you develop an interest in being a TV?

Tom: As near as I can remember, around 2 o 3 years of age. My mother wanted a girl when I was born and was disappointed to find I was a boy. Although given a male name, she dressed me as a girl and encouraged me at an early age. When I started school, she dressed me in a blouse and jumper. At school the kids teased me, and it was most embarrassing. I asked my mom to dress me as a boy, which she finally did. To this day, I feel resentful toward her for forcing me to go to school dressed as a girl. I can remember Mom wearing hats and gloves when she went to church. In the past two years as a TV, I enjoy wearing hats and gloves. Through the years, my family has suspected my being gay. Two years ago, after telling my Mom that I had decided to be a TV, she said: "Forty years later and I have a second daughter." The only other family I have is a sister.

Larry: Is your family supportive now?

Tom: My mom and sister are supportive. On my recent trip to New York to visit them, I wore women's clothing and the only male clothes I took with me was a man's suit, just in case there would be a problem at a bus station or other public place, but there was none. My mother and I went shopping and out to dinner with no problems. She said I should find a "rich" husband. I told her all I wanted was to be happy...

In concluding the interview, the hostess offered us some of her homemade strawberry shortcake, and was it ever good. She loves French cooking and does all of her own cooking from scratch.

We wish you the best, Tom!

RUSSIAN RIVER

The WOODS
RUSSIAN RIVER RESORT

"...A MAN CAN TAN HIS BUNS AT THE POOL FOR NUDE SUNBATHERS..."

As one of the wettest winters in recent California history passes on, it would be hard to hear a bigger sigh of relief than that of the residents and visitors of Northern California's Russian River Resort area. As he has done many times before, ol' man river stretched beyond his banks and spread himself over fertile farm land, highways, and the small resorts that rest along his bends and turns.

But ol' man river has been forgiven and residents and owners are busy sprucing up for what they hope will be a hot summer in Russian River country. While many of the resorts remained open for the winter, the Woods resort closed for the rainy season and is now beginning to re-open their doors for the spring sun. Waiting at the gates are scores of pale white bodies that have waited since last October to bronze themselves in the Northern California sun.

One of the least hurt by the high water, the Woods Resort, nestled next to Armstrong Redwoods State Park, has been one of the most popular resorts since it opened in 1979. Their grand opening was held March 19 and was followed by the Second Annual Mr. Northern California Drummer contest on March 25-27. The winner of that contest will fly to Chicago to compete for the Mr. International Leather 1983 title in May. Mr. Northern California Drummer will then strut his stuff for the honor of becoming Mr. Drummer in 1983 in a contest scheduled for San Francisco in June. The Woods' Mr. Northern California Drummer contest has set the stage for what promises to become a hot-man season at that resort.

The Woods also plans special events for Memorial Weekend, Fourth of July, Labor Day, and in September will host the Second Annual Mr. Russian River Contest. Reservations for special weekends are highly recommended. If the weekend of your choice is full, keep in mind the Woods offers a 30% discount on rooms Sunday through Thursday, excluding holidays. For the first-time this year, the resort will also offer limited camping facilities in a secluded area of the compound under giant redwood trees. Day use of the resort is also available at $5 a day and discounts are offered with any valid gym membership card. The gym card will also get you a discount at the dance hall on Friday and Saturday nights. And if you have a thing for horses, Bob's Hitching Post at the Woods will offer horseback riding through the redwood state park for only $10 an hour.

In the past three years, the Woods' dance hall has become well known for the hot-man attitude of get down and dance. The main dance area has been enlarged and the extensive sound and lighting system by Bruce Trondson of Tronson Sound of San Francisco is enhanced by the solid redwood structure of the building. A balcony around the inside of the angled ceiling to the dance floor gives viewers a bird's-eye view of the dancers below.

Guests at the Woods are admitted to the dance hall for free on Fridays and half-price on Saturdays when the music plays after hours until 4 am. In an effort to encourage men to show their well-developed pectoral muscles, men without shirts on Saturday night are admitted with a discount. If dancing is what you still want on Sunday, the traditional Sunday tea dance is free. The Woods' Sunday tea dances have become one of the infamous customs that men remember long after the music stops.

In addition to the dance area, the Woods has three complete bars, inside and creekside to suit your mood. The registration area includes the main bar, coat check, pool table, and fireplace lounge with large screen television and the latest in video games. Happy hour is Monday through Saturday from 5-7 pm.

If you're one of those bodies waiting to change from pale to bronze, the Woods offers plenty of sunning area. With a choice of two pools, a man can tan his buns at the pool for nude sunbathers or keep his tan line intact at the south pool. Beverage runners will help you keep your thirst to a minimum, and perhaps one of the other guests will help you rub that lotion on your back. Or wherever. You can even pump your pecs while you're tanning them with the Woods' new Universal machine and free weights. And after all that pumping, sweating, and sunning, relax in the hot tub under the redwood trees.

Beginning this April, the Woods' Cafe will open under the direction of Fred Rosenblum, who was the epicurean behind the Oasis Juice Bar on Castro Street in San Francisco. The cafe will be serving breakfast, lunch, and dinner and you can count on great food at reasonable prices. If bar-b-que is your delight, the Woods' also serves bar-b-que every Sunday evening on the patio.

Dining, dancing, sunning, swimming, horseback riding, and as much relaxation as you can possibly take--that is what the owners of the Woods Resort had in mind when they purchased the Hexagon House Resort in 1978. Since then, they have spent, and are still spending, over a quarter million bucks to make the Woods one of the best gay resorts in the country. A full-service resort is what the three men wanted to create and the Woods has become that and more.

Just to the north of the twenty-one spacious hotel rooms overlooking the south pool and lawn, there are also eighteen large cabins with kitchens and some with fireplaces. The cabins are built surrounding the nude swimming pool and are nestled in the giant redwoods for total privacy.

The resort has become well known for its offering of first-class entertainment in the dance hall and cabaret. Owners Carl Bruno, Al Knopka, and Gene Arnais have presented such performers as Sylvester, Etta James, Two Tons of Fun, Divine, Maxine Weldon, Michael Greer, Sharon McKnight, and Mary Wells. Although Monday night is traditionally a closed night for live entertainment, it is alive and quite well at the Woods. Monday night is know as "locals night." The idea originated so local resort employees, who have to work weekends, could catch the cabaret acts that play the Woods. It also gives out-of-towners a chance to meet some of the locals on their night off.

One of the elements that contributes to the Russian River area's uniqueness is the out-of-towners. But don't be misled into thinking they are all from San Francisco. With the low air fares that have occurred in the past year, the area continues to draw gay men from Los Angeles, the Mid-West, and New York. And when city meets country at the Woods, watch out. Whether it be dancing, drinking, or just plain partying, the Woods Resort is definitely where the hot men gather. See ya there!

Gay Film Festival

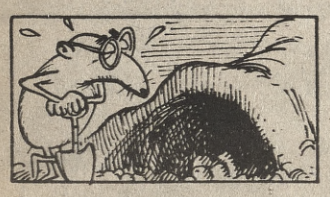
This special survey of contemporary gay cinema kicks off with the area premiere of LIANNA, the eagerly awaited new film by John Sayles (THE RETURN OF THE SECAUCUS SEVEN), which focuses on the drama erupting when a young wife and mother enters her first lesbian love affair. This exceptional festival will showcase seven rarely seen films, featuring several Sacramento premieres, investigating the gay and lesbian subculture in such various countries as Great Britain, Holland, West Germany, New Zealand, France, and the United States. The one-week showing of LIANNA begins Sunday, June 19 and continues through Saturday, June 25; the festival then continues on the following three Tuesdays, June 28, July 5, and July 12.



A mole can dig a tunnel 300 feet long in one night.

MCC

Affiliation is seen by MCC as recognition of its ministry to the men and women of the gay community. Also, it is believed that the MCC ministry can be more effective by having membership in the larger group.

Some of the council's members have threatened to withdraw if the MCC is admitted because of a belief that homosexuality is incompatible with Christianity.
